

Make your choice in Japan of the Tsuji Culinary Institute Group.

01

Largest Culinary Institute in Japan

Preeminent even on a world scale, the Tsuji Culinary Institute Group is Japan's largest culinary educator.

Since its founding in April 1960, the Tsuji Culinary Institute Group has steadily expanded the range of subjects it teaches based on its educational philosophy "Ever seeking authenticity." Some things can be studied nowhere else but at Japan's largest culinary and patisserie institute.

Our faculty is made up of 260 experts: all professional-level chefs and teachers.

Approximately 260 instructors teach culinary skills to students at the Tsuji Culinary Institute Group. Each instructor has a vast amount of training experience acquired in France, Germany and elsewhere. Since all teachers are full-time, they are able to provide reliable support to students, such as separate after-school practice sessions, in order to help students with any particular challenges they may be experiencing in mastering culinary skills.
